Introduction

National Taiwan University of Science and Technology (NTUST), founded in 1974, is one of Taiwan’s leading universities, possessing an excellent record as an outstanding research and educational institution in Asia. NTUST offers students an extensive spectrum of programs in an innovative and friendly learning environment. Our student numbers over 10,000 students enrolled in bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral degree programs. These include two kinds of programs: (1) The Chinese-taught program: the courses will be taught in Chinese; (2) The English-taught graduate program: the courses will be taught in English.

Applications are only accepted via applying online.

2. Terms of Study

   Master program: 1-4 years
   Ph. D. program: 2-7 years

3. Academic Year

   NTUST runs 2 semesters in each academic year. Spring semester is scheduled from February to June, while fall semester is from September to January of the following year.

4. Financial Aid

   For All-English programs, among the admitted students, the selected ones will be offered scholarship. For the first year, tuition and fees are waived for the entire school year and a monthly stipend of NT$10,000(full)/6,000(partial) is granted to a master program student and NT$15,000(full)/8,000(partial) is granted to a doctoral student. For the second-year master students and second-year PhD students, the scholarship will be offered as long as the students meet certain requirements.

   All international students can also apply for the Taiwan Scholarship offered by the government. However, those who have already received financial aid from other sources including Taiwan Scholarship are not eligible to apply NTUST scholarship.

5. Application
